
The Office of the Vice President for Public Service & Outreach and the Institute of Higher Education present the Journal of Higher Education Outreach & Engagement

Volume 12 of JHEOE features a new look, a new format, new associate editors, and, most importantly, a renewed commitment to the pursuit of higher education's public purposes and work.

JHEOE is seeking articles in the following categories:

- Research and Conceptual/Philosophical Articles discussing dilemmas in community-higher education engagement and identifying critical areas for research and inquiry (edited by KerryAnn O'Meara, University of Maryland—College Park)
- Practice Stories from the Field evaluating and analyzing practitioner experience in the public work of higher education (edited by Scott Peters, Cornell University)
- Reflective Essays and Reviews on current and emerging trends, perspectives, issues and challenges in engagement, public scholarship, and institutional change (edited by Hiram E. Fitzgerald, Michigan State University)
- Book Reviews of literature that addresses community-higher education engagement and the practice of public scholarship (edited by Theodore R. Alter, The Pennsylvania State University)
