

Tuesday, May 3, 2011, 9 am – 12:30 pm
Armstrong Medical Educational Building
Johns Hopkins Medical Campus

The Future of Community- Engaged Research

Join national and local experts for learning and interactive discussion.

Promoting Researcher-Community
Collaborations

Influencing Policy and Practice

Current Perspectives and Future
Directions

Continental breakfast and lunch provided. The conference is free, but advance registration is required.

Visit ictr.johnshopkins.edu/FCER to register or contact the ICTR Community Engagement Office at stthomas81@jhmi.edu or 410-550-8146.

Presented by ICTR Community Engagement and

JOHNS HOPKINS
UNIVERSITY

School of Nursing
Center of Excellence for Cardiovascular Health

The Johns Hopkins Institute for Clinical and Translational Research

ICTR—Where Science and People Connect

CTSA Clinical & Translational®
Science Awards

KEYNOTE SESSIONS

Lawrence Green, MPH, DrPH
Adjunct Professor of Epidemiology & Biostatistics
University of California, San Francisco

Frances Phillips, RN, MHA
Deputy Secretary of Public Health Services
Maryland Department of Health

Marshall Prentice, DD, DHL
Pastor, Zion Baptist Church

OPENING REMARKS

Ronald J. Daniels, JD, LL.M.
President, Johns Hopkins University

CLOSING REMARKS

Daniel Ford, MD, MPH
Vice Dean of Clinical Investigation and Director,
Johns Hopkins Institute for Clinical and Translational
Research (ICTR)

RESEARCHER AND COMMUNITY DISCUSSION WITH AUDIENCE PANELISTS

Eric Bass, MD, MPH
Editor-in-chief, *Progress in Community Health
Partnerships: Research,
Education, and Action*

Chris Serio-Chapman, MSW
Bureau Chief for Community
Risk Reduction Services,
Baltimore City Health
Department

Donald Shell, MD, MA
Health Officer, Prince
George's County Health
Department

Freya Sonenstein, PhD
Professor, Johns Hopkins
Bloomberg School of Public Health

JOHNS HOPKINS
MEDICINE