Workshop

• What does an engaged institution look like?
  – Systems
  – Alignment
  – Toward a conceptual model/framework

• What has moved us along—case examples

• What will move your institutions along

• Resources
An Engaged Institution

• is fully committed to direct, two-way interaction with communities and other external constituencies through the development, exchange, and application of knowledge, information and expertise for mutual benefit.

Properties of Systems

• “A regularly interacting or interdependent group of elements forming a unified whole working toward achievement of a goal.”
• Input, transformations, outputs
• Boundaries
• Feedback
• Multifinality and equifinality
• Alignment
Diagnosing Organizational Systems

• The key to effective diagnosis is...
  – Know what to look for at each organizational level
  – Recognize how the levels affect each other
Organization-Level Diagnostic Model

Inputs  Design Components  Outputs

Culture

Organization Design Components

• Strategy
  – The way an organization uses its resources (human, economic, or technical) to gain and sustain a competitive advantage

• Structure
  – How attention and resources are focused on task accomplishment

• Technology
  – The way an organization converts inputs into products and services
Organization Design Components

• Human resource systems
  – The mechanisms for selecting, developing, appraising, and rewarding organization members

• Measurement systems
  – Methods of gathering, assessing, and disseminating information on the activities of groups and individuals in organizations
Organization Design Components

- Organization culture
  - The basic assumptions, values, and norms shared by organization members
  - Represents both an “outcome” of organization design and a “foundation” or “constraint” to change
Alignment

• Diagnosis involves understanding each of the parts in the model and then assessing how the elements of the strategic orientation align with each other and with the inputs.

• Organization effectiveness is likely to be high when there is good alignment.
Key Alignment Questions

• Do the systems/design components fit with the inputs?
• Are the systems/design components internally consistent? Do they fit and mutually support each other?
Creating Systems to Support Outreach Scholarship...

• What are the focal issues/systems to consider?
• What are the transactions that need to occur within an institution to link systems to support outreach scholarship?
  – Significant facilitators
  – Challenges
• What are critical points of alignment?
  – What may be essential but insufficient?
• Developmental stages?

- Function model

Enhancing Knowledge to Serve Society
Definition of Engagement

Engagement is the partnership of university knowledge and resources with those of the public and private sectors

• to enrich scholarship and creative activities,
• to enhance curriculum, teaching & learning,
• to prepare educated, engaged citizens,
• to strengthen democratic values and civic responsibility,
• to address critical societal issues,
• and to contribute to the public good.

– Adapted from the CIC Committee on Engagement
“… a form of scholarship that cuts across teaching, research, and service. It involves generating, transmitting, applying, and preserving knowledge for the direct benefit of external audiences in ways that are consistent with university and unit missions.”

- Strong operational programs
- Budget support
- Staff support
- Measurement tools for P&T in System
- O&E standard part of new faculty and administrator orientation programs

Your Institutions?

• Individual Institutional Diagnosis—5 minutes
• Group Discussion—Facilitator/Reporter; Recorder 10 minutes each question

1. Do you have a definition of engaged scholarship—characteristics, process to develop it, how communicated/used?

2. Do faculty engaged in the SOE?

3. What systems seem to be working to support outreach scholarship…what is out of alignment…what needs to be created…what needs to be to happen to create systems?

4. How would you characterize the “developmental” stage of your institution in creating systems to support outreach scholarship?

5. Resources…used/developed/access

- Outreach to campus committees or to discipline
- Community outreach mentioned; volunteerism or consulting may be included in portfolio
- Formal guidelines for defining, documenting and rewarding outreach
- Community-based research and teaching are key criteria for hiring and evaluation

P&T Standards: Barriers and Constraints
(from NERCHE)

- Roles of external regulatory agencies (statewide boards, accreditation bodies, etc.)
- Cultures of disciplines & professions (autonomy, turf protection, work allocation systems)
- National and international prestige systems
- Internal reward systems
- Faculty careers and careerism (ethos of individualism, discipline-specific training, split loyalties – university, community, discipline)
- Absence of professional associations and journals for faculty committed to interprofessional collaborations; threats of marginalization and isolation
- Students’ orientations and characteristics (faculty orientations and curricular innovations as influenced by what students will permit)
- Problems of bureaucratization
- Antagonistic relationships between administration and faculty groups
- Accountability systems in, and for, the universities (what expectations, criteria, and rewards for relevance and impact?)
